REMINISCENCES OF MOSBY. - A literary gentleman who has been writing a book on some events of the war has had a correspondence with Mosby, to elicit some information required. In reply to a question whether it would be safe for a "Black Republican dyed in the wool" to take a horseback journey through Virginia, the rough-rider responded as follows: "If you have any desire to visit the historic scenes of Virginia, I hope you will not be deterred by any apprehensions for your personal safety. You will be just as safe from molestation here as in the streets of Boston. Should you determine to visit Northern Virginia, I would be glad to see you at my home; and I can at least promise that you will not find me the monstrum horrendum of the Northern imagination. By the bye, one of the regiments I most frequently encountered was from about Boston—the 2d Massachusetts, Colonel Lowell. I once met a detachment of it under command of Major Forbes, of Boston, and although our encounter resulted in his overthrow, he bore himself with conspicuous gallantry, and I saw him wound one of my best men with his sabre.

I also had an adventure with a Captain Barton of Massachusetts, who served on General Eustace's staff, and interested myself to procure his exchange. - Boston Advertiser.

PRISONERS AT THE DRY TORTUGAS. - A letter received from the Dry Tortugas, on the Florida coast, dated the 25th of last month, states that Edward Spangler and Arnold and O'Laughlin have been all that could be desired as regards correct deportment since their incarceration. Spangler has earnestly and industriously labored in the carpenter shop; has never been subject to reprimand in any shape; and though once or twice indisposed and under treatment in the hospital, has in each instance returned to duty before required by regular discharge. He is well, and manifests a desire to serve out his sentence with patience. They are all well cared for, and are represented to be more comfortable and enjoying better health, probably, than if confined in an ordinary penitentiary. Irons were put upon all the State prisoners, four in number, solely on account of the attempt made by Mudd to escape. The irons have now been removed, and all liberty consistent with proper prison discipline is allowed them.

DISCOVERY OF RUINS.-Information has been received at the Department of State of the discovery of the ruins of two ancient cities in Mexico. The U. S. Consul states that the first from its topography and situation, he is led to believe is the one occupied by Cortez at the time of his invasion of Tobasco, and is situated about fitteen miles to the west of Frontera, a town at the mouth of the Tobasco or Grijoloa river. The other is situated in the northeastern portion of the State, nearly opposite the present city of Laguna de los Terminos, and was known before the conquest as Xicolanea.
